Dear Family,

The gospel this weekend tells us the crowd around Jesus is confused spiritually and intellectually, much as we are at many moments in our lives. We ask that God speak to us, but when we hear God's voice, we don't understand. This is just the way it is. We are human and our minds are very limited in what we can understand.

That is why we, as Christians, need to continue through our lives, to study the Bible, the written word of God. If you do not know, the Bible is a living document, and it will always speak to you in the ways you are to conduct your lives to help you understand just what God is asking of you.

It is always our choice to have a relationship with God. However, for that to happen, we need to truly understand what is required of us. I am sure we all would agree that if we do not understand something, then we dig in and study that subject so we will understand.

In continuing your journey this Lenten season, do the best you can to understand just what God expects of you, listen to Him, then follow those instructions and you will be come closer to your Savior.

Deacon Joe
