Dear Family,

“They have taken the Lord from the tomb” (John 20:2).

Who are these people of Mary’s words?

None of the disciples understand yet that Jesus has not been taken at all but rather has left under his own power.

Thanks be to God that we know the truth. We have the privilege to always be able to read the words of truth from Our Lord. So, we do understand.

Mary’s worry, however, it is one that modern Christians might well ponder. We seem to discard these known facts. Are we seeking the risen Christ whose presence is still here among us, or have we “Taken him away,” hidden him somewhere because we’re not sure what he asks of us, or even because we’re afraid to be joyful in a broken world?

It is Easter! Let us boldly experience the joy of the Risen One who is here today, tomorrow, and always. Alleluia.

Have a Blessed Easter Season.

Deacon Joe
